THE OHIO LEGISLATURE.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEET AND ORGANIZE AT COLUMBUS.

Governor Foraker Submits His Annual Message and It is Read in Both Houses. Senator Davis Elected President Pro Tem—The Other Officers Elected.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—The Senate was called to order by Senator Martley, the oldest member. Senator Zimmerman acted as secretary. The names of the members elected were called and they were sworn in by Chief Justice Owens, James C. Richardson and Theodore F. Davis, of Washington county, were named for president pro tem.

The roll being called before the result was announced, Senator Rannels moved to adjourn, which the chair ruled out of order. The result of the ballot was finally announced, which was, Richardson, 15, Davis, 19; and Davis was immediately sworn in. This broke the Republican caucus slate.

James E. Lowry was elected chief clerk, over Hayes, the caucus nominee.

Walter Thomas, colored, was elected journal clerk over the caucus nominee, Thrown, of Ross.

G. Flenner was elected message clerk, and Mrs. Belle Hanford engraving clerk without opposition, and Miss Pattle Kummer, of Hamilton county, was elected over Mrs. Morrison, the slate being defeated again.

William L. Curlin, a Democrat, was elected recording clerk. Dayton Glenn was elected sergeant-at-arms without opposition. A. P. Glover was elected assistant over Albert Henry, the caucus candidate.

A. C. Glover was elected first assistant sergeant-at-arms over Albert Henry, who was the Republican caucus nominee.

Evan Evans, of Cincinnati, was elected second assistant and R. B. Crawford third assistant, who were on the slate, were both elected without opposition.

The house officers were as follows: Speaker, E. L. Lampson; clerk, David Lanning; sergeant-at-arms, B. F. Hayward.

Governor Foraker's message was read in both branches of the legislature. It was as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, COLUMBUS, O., January 2, 1888.

"To the General Assembly:

"The years of 1887 and 1888 are important in the history of our state. They are respectively the centennial anniversaries of the adoption of the ordinance of 1787 and the first settlement on Ohio soil. The people have a just appreciation for these events and a disposition to suitably celebrate them. Such celebrations, mentioning them in their chronological order, will be held during the year at Marietta, Cincinnati and Columbus. The last general assembly adopted resolutions recognizing and approving these occasions, and great preparations have been made to make them successful. The exercises at Marietta will be of a social, religious, historical, literary and commemorative character. At Cincinnati and Columbus, in addition to such exercises, they will have also an exposition of our growth and development during the century. Our progress in morality, education, agriculture, arts, science, literature, mechanics and manufactures will be fittingly and instructively portrayed. It has been well said that 1888 is to be with us a year of jubilee. It is proper, it should be. No people have been more richly blessed; nor have any made greater progress in the achievement of all that is calculated to promote human welfare. It is becoming to show esteem for such exceptional favor. The lessons so taught will inspire love and pride of country, and thus more securely guarantee the preservation of our free institutions. The state should, therefore, in every appropriate way, continue to sanction and encourage what is so to be done, and thus aid to make the occasion worthy of the great events to which they relate and the high purposes they are intended to subserve.

GRAND ARMY.

"During the month of September next, the National encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held at the city of Columbus. This will bring together thousands of the survivors of the Union army. It is quite in harmony that while we are celebrating the deeds of our fathers who gave us our form of government, we should also have this representative assemblage of the veteran heroes who saved it. They should be so welcomed and cared for as to gladden their hearts, and at the same time teach the rising generation a just appreciation for the patriotism, heroism and valor which their presence will recall. You can greatly and appropriately aid this work by authorizing the adjutant general to give them the use, while they are here, of the tents of the National guard. They should be made comfortable and to feel at home in loyal Ohio.

THE PAULDING COUNTY RESERVOIR.

"The citizens of the locality in which it is situated, have become greatly dissatisfied with the presence there of the Six Mile or Paulding county reservoir. They regard it as a nuisance, dangerous to health and calculated to retard and prevent the development of their section of the State. They have been striving for some time to secure its abandonment. They made an earnest but vain appeal to the late general assembly. In Paulding county there is practically but one sentiment on this subject, and that is so intense that during the summer on several occasions, it took the form of an unlawful endeavor, by the use of dynamite and otherwise, to destroy this portion of the State's property. Another appeal, will no doubt, be made to you, to take action in regard to this matter. The people who will make it an entitled to a hearing and a thorough investigation at your hands, of the grievance about which they complain. By reason of the abandonment by the State of Indiana of the Wabash and Erie canal, and the interruption of its natural water supply by drainage on the Indiana side of the state line, this reservoir has been rendered of less importance than formerly.

"It never was intended to be a part of our present system of canals, or to have any relation to the same, except as a part of the Wabash & Erie canal. There have been two or three instances, however, in the past when it has been used to increase the supply of water in the Miami & Erie canal. But it is not likely there will be any great need for it of this character in the future, and should there be, it could not be reliably depended upon, because of its own limited and uncertain supply of water occasioned by the abandonment of the Wabash & Erie canal and the drainage of the territory on the Indiana side of the state line, above referred to. There will be but little business to be done hereafter on the eleven miles between this reservoir and Junction City, on account of the fact that the timber for which it has been of late years almost exclusively used, will soon be exhausted. The time will, therefore, shortly come, if it is not already here, when all interests involved, both of the state and its citizens, can be protected and the cause of complaint which now exists, be removed.

STATE'S FINANCES.

"In my last annual message this paragraph occurs: 'The state auditor's report will advise you that the total receipts from all sources for the general revenue fund for the next year will amount to about $2,800,000. The probabilities are that on the fifteenth day of next February we will have anticipated this to the amount of about $300,000, and that at that time there will remain to be paid unexpended balances of the appropriations of this year about $200,000. In other words, the net revenues available for next year will not exceed $2,600,000. To the extent your appropriations exceed this sum it will be necessary to again anticipate next December the revenues of the following year, less unexpended balances. Should your appropriations for this year and the unexpended balances be $200,000, the amount they are estimated to be at the end of this year, the amount you would have to anticipate would be $500,000.'

"This statement was made the basis for a recommendation that suitable provision be made to avoid the necessity of drawing upon next year's revenues to meet the obligations of this. No such provision was made, and the result has been what was then pointed out. The receipts from all sources for the general revenue fund of this year will be about $2,800,000. Of this amount about $500,000 will have been expended prior to February 15, 1888, leaving the net amount of $2,300,000 available for general purposes. To the extent your appropriations from the general revenue fund may exceed this sum, it will be necessary for you to make special provision or compel anticipation again of next year's revenues at the end of this. The habit of anticipating revenues, although authorized by law, is a bad one that should be avoided. We are able to meet all demands as they arise, and each year should pay its own debts. The falling behind of the state financially has been chiefly due to the fact that expenses have been necessarily and continually increasing, while our revenues have remained substantially the same. And what has been true as to an increase of liabilities to be paid out of the general revenue fund has also been true as to the sinking fund. The amount of the public debt, payable out of it was for 1885, but $350,000; while for 1886 it was $375,000 and for 1887 $500,000 and for 1888 it will be $600,000. But for 1889 and for each year thereafter, the amount will be but $350,000. On this account, and because of the reduction of interest, the liabilities of the sinking fund for 1889 will not exceed the sum of about $600,000. But for the present year its receipts will be insufficient to pay its liabilities by the amount of about $100,000.

"This will make it necessary to refund at least that amount of 4 per cent bonds maturing July 1, 1888. But inasmuch as you cannot pay in full the $600,000 maturing next July and must refund as to a part, it is recommended that you pay only one half and that you refund the balance. We are doing well enough when we are paying all our current expenses and discharging our bonded debt at the rate of $300,000 per annum. By this means you will provide a surplus of about $300,000 for the sinking fund from this year's receipts, which can be applied to its liabilities for next year, thus leaving but about $400,000 to be raised for that fund to meet all its liabilities for 1889. Two-tenths of one mill will be a sufficient rate for this purpose. Hence you can safely reduce the present rate of five-tenths of one mill for the sinking fund to two-tenths of one mill, and add the three-tenths of one mill, so taken from the sinking fund rate, to the rate for the general revenue fund, and with strict economy thus almost, if not quite, provide for all deficiencies. If the course here indicated be pursued, it will save the necessity of either borrowing or increasing the rate of taxation.

REVISION OF OUR TAX LAWS.

"In former messages I have called attention at length to the necessity of a revision of our tax laws. However just and perfect they may be in theory, the fact remains patent to all that gross inequalities exist in the valuation of property for taxation, and that personal property to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars in value escapes taxation entirely. The next decennial reappraisal of real estate is now so near at hand that it is better, perhaps, to wait until then to correct the inequalities in the taxation of realty. But there should be no delay in providing for the taxation, as heretofore recommended, of foreign corporations on their gross receipts, or in some equivalent way, the better listing of mortgages and other securities, and the more equitable taxing of private banks.

THE STATE'S INDEBTEDNESS.

"In my last annual message, I called attention to the fact that the local indebtedness of the state had reached the enormous amount of more than $55,000,000. It has now reached, as shown by the auditor of state's report, the sum of $54,843,000. The recommendation is therefore repeated that no county, township or municipal corporation should be allowed to create a general debt exceeding ten per cent of the tax valuation of its real estate, and that you provide that in all cases where there may already be a general indebtedness in excess of that limitation no further debt be allowed to be contracted until the present debt is reduced below the limitation mentioned. There is no question affecting the people of Ohio more important than that of taxation.

STATE EXPENSES.

"The expenses of our state government are necessarily increasing each year in correspondence with our growth of population and general development. Year by year it becomes, therefore, of greater importance to perfect as nearly as we may our revenue system. It would seem wise to accomplish this before our next decennial reappraisal. The subject is one of such vast and far-reaching consequences that it is probably impossible for you to deal with it satisfactorily, except through a committee appointed by and from your body, or an independent commission authorized by you, to give special study and attention to the subject. Should a commission be appointed to consider the subject, the various industries of the state should be suitably represented upon it.

DOW LAW.

"The last general assembly enacted a statute, popularly known as the Dow law, for the regulation and taxation of the liquor traffic. The object of this legislation was the better protection of society from the evils of intemperance, and to compel the traffic, in furtherance of this purpose, to share the burdens of government. Its most important features are generally those of taxation and local option prohibition. To the extent the law is applicable, it gives to each community the privilege of dealing with it as it may desire. It is a practical measure, virtually enforcing itself so far as taxation is concerned, and capable of enforcement where made applicable as a prohibitory law, since in all such cases there must be the requisite public sentiment. It is based upon the idea of local self-government, and is, therefore, in harmony with the spirit of our institutions. The results wrought by it are sufficiently salutary to vindicate its character. It has never been claimed, however, by even its most ardent friends, that it was perfect in all its provisions. It was simply the best legislation of its kind that could be had when it was enacted. As time and experience indicate defects, they should be remedied, in order that the law may be strengthened and upheld.

TARIFF.

"My last annual message commenced with the following paragraph: 'The recent elections did much to dispel the distrust that has obtained throughout the country during the last two years as to the policy to be pursued by our national government in regard to the protection of American labor and industries. It can now be stated with great confidence that no political party will be allowed, however much it may desire to do so, to break down that wise and patriotic policy to which we are so much indebted for the unexampled prosperity we have enjoyed during the last quarter of a century. The assurance thus afforded is already beneficially manifesting itself throughout all our business interests. With a complete restoration of confidence in this regard, there will be a full return of that commercial and industrial activity which will bring the rich blessings of just rewards and happy contentment to all classes of our people. This is just cause of congratulation for all.'

"It was then generally supposed that, we had heard the last of free-trade, at least for a time, but not so. The recent message of the president of the United States commits his administration and the party he represents to the most unqualified and hostile opposition to the entire principle and policy of a protective tariff. He seeks to make it appear that the blow he would strike is aimed only at the manufacturing and wool-growing interests of the country, but it is manifest to all men of intelligence, who are acquainted with our conditions, that if his propositions prevail the consequences will be disastrous to every industry and every section of our country, and to no class more surely than our farmers, who must rely chiefly on our home markets for the sale of their products, and our laboring people who depend upon a continuance of that general prosperity that has obtained for the last quarter of a century for employment at remunerative wages. But it should be particularly noted by you that it is deliberately proposed to practically sacrifice altogether the wool growing interest of the country by removing from it all protection whatever.

OHIO'S WOOL INTERESTS.

"Ohio ranks first of all the states of the union in sheep husbandry. In 1883 we had 5,130,920 sheep, valued at $13,249,166. The reduction of the tariff on wool by the act of that year has already produced to the wool-growers of this state the disastrous consequences shown by the following table:

	Number of sheep.	Value.
1883	5,130,920	13,249,166
1884	4,908,794	11,940,720
1885	4,928,332	9,345,819
1886	4,368,839	8,888,439
1887	4,105,177	8,805,550
Total decline since 1883	1,025,746	4,442,616

"But it is not until it is remembered that not only has there been this decrease in the number of sheep and their value, but that there has also been a decline in the value of the wool produced of about fourteen cents per pound, that the full extent of this calamity to our wool growers is perceived and appreciated. Our annual clip is not only about six million pounds less than it was in 1883, but the twenty-five million pounds now produced bring to the owners of our flocks each year more than $3,000,000 less money than formerly. To put wool on the free list, as proposed, and thus put our wool growers in competition with the free grass and cheap labor of foreign wool growing countries, is to unjustly discriminate against an honorable, industrious and patriotic class of people and to utterly destroy one of the most important industries of the country; an industry, in fact, without which no country can be independent. The effect would fall with particular severity upon this state, since it would not only destroy the wool industry, but also injuriously affect every other.

"While, therefore, you have no power to legislate with respect to National affairs, yet it should be remembered that in your representative capacity, you have an influence which you should not fail to use for the good of the people you represent, by adopting resolutions of protest against such unwise, unjust and unpatriotic propositions. You have also the right, and you should exercise it, of requesting our representatives in congress to oppose all such measures that may be offered. Other and better ways can be provided for disposing of the surplus revenue than by breaking down our home industry and exposing our labor to foreign competition. All, therefore, who think more of this country than they do of any other, and all who appreciate the great blessings we have enjoyed in consequence of the protective tariff policy which has been pursued for the last twenty-five years, should stand firmly together in its support, and not only should we continue to protect and develop every industry that is essential to our greatness and independence, but we should afford direct protection to our labor by carefully discriminating against every kind of socialism, criminal or disreputable character who may seek to immigrate to our shores. Next after our obligations to God, it is our highest duty to take care of America.

"Respectfully submitted,

"J. B. FORAKER, governor."

HAYMARKET MONUMENT.

Proposed Shaft to Commemorate the Valor of the Police in the Anarchist Riot.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Much interest has been developed locally by the latest suggestion regarding the proposed monument to commemorate the valor of the police at the Haymarket riot. Edwin Lee Brown, a prominent member of the Citizens' association, in an interview gives the details of the idea.

The plan is to purchase the mammoth rough shaft of granite near Rockland, Me., and fashion it into the tallest obelisk in the world. The largest now standing is the one at the Lateran in Rome. It is 105 feet in height and weighs 510 tons. The one in New York is sixty-nine and one-half feet in height and weighs 224 tons. The proposed obelisk to be erected at the center of the Haymarket square would be 115 feet high, not counting a sub-structure thirty-five feet in height. Its weight would be 650 tons. Mr. Brown estimates the cost, including transportation by way of the St. Lawrence river and the great lakes, at $100,000. He thinks that sum, for the project in view, could be raised with even greater ease than the $5,000 originally proposed, which has already been largely exceeded by contributions, mainly in dimes and quarters.

RAILROAD TROUBLES.

The Reading Strike Proves Only a Partial Success.

READING, Pa. Jan. 3.—The Reading strike was discussed yesterday at a meeting of Knights of Labor assemblies in this city, and it was given out that the men would not strike under any circumstances. A number of assemblies in neighboring towns telegraphed that they would be guided by the action of the Reading assembly.

Within the past twenty-four hours the situation in the coal regions respecting the labor troubles has materially changed and the best posted authorities now agree that a miners' strike is very imminent. The proceedings at Knights of Labor assembly meetings in various places Sunday show that unless the 8 per cent. advance on the $2.50 basis is granted the miners will in all probability go out.

From Norristown, Pennsylvania.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 3.—The furnace owners have been short of coal and ore for more than a week. Freight accumulated fast. The shifters are all at work to-day. The strikers in the Shamokin region have prevailed on the boarding house keepers to refuse board to those taking the strikers' places.

A report that the strikers had attempted to blow up a train with dynamite proved to have come from the fact that some small boys exploded a stick of dynamite at the edge of the town.

The coal and iron police have opened recruiting stations at Pottsville, Tanawqua and Shamokin, and all day Sunday were swearing in men.

Two switches were thrown by strikers at Palo Alto in an attempt to wreck an engine which was shifting coal cars. Bitter feeling is increasing.

From Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—Reading railroad officials have cause to give the new year a ready welcome. It has given them a chance to finish up all the accumulated work of the week and to meet the coming week of trouble with clear hands.

At every station in this city this morning excepting Third and Berks the force of new men are at work.

The scarcity of coal is getting alarming.

Very little was done to-day on either side; every one is waiting until to-morrow morning when the action of the miners will be positively known. Their action is now generally regarded by all as the main spring of the whole business, and that on their decision depends the fate of the knights. No trains were sent out from here to-day, but all freight coming in were loaded, ready to go out to-morrow morning.

Powderly Talks.

SERANTON, Pa., Jan. 3.—General Master Workman Powderly said yesterday that he believed it to be the duty of the miners in the Schuylkill region to keep to their contract made with the company last September. He could not believe the miners would do anything contrary to their agreement by striking.

Successful Brewers.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3.—A union was organized yesterday by the brewers and maltsters of the city. Resolutions were passed asking the proprietors of the two city breweries to make ten hours a day's work, with three hours on Sunday; overtime to be paid at the rate of twenty cents per hour. Cellar hands to receive $15 and wash house men $55 per month. The demands were acceded to, except that the cellar hands will receive $60 per month and wash house men $50. The brewers have agreed to employ no non-union men.

Glass Workers Strike.

SANDWICH, Mass., Jan. 3.—As was expected, the glass workers employed in the Boston & Sandwich glass factory did not return to work to-day. Work in the decorating, etching and other departments will continue until the stock is used up, when, if the difficulties are not settled, a general suspension will undoubtedly occur. The differences are to be settled by a committee from the American Flint Glass Manufacturers' association, and their decision is it is final for workmen in all factories.

A Strike May Follow.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 3.—The Knights of Labor have so far been unsuccessful in getting the railroad coal miners at Scott Haven to come out for the Columbus scale. As a result of this, a number of operators notified their miners that a reduction of five cents per ton would be made in their wages to take effect at once. A strike may follow.

Horribly Scalded.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 3.—M. P. McManus, an employee of the Lafayette paper mill, while examining one of the large bleach tubs accidentally lost his footing and plunged into the steaming hot lime water. His limbs from the knees down were badly scalded, and he will be laid up for many months. This is the third accident of this nature.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

MAYSLEICK.

Heavy sleet fell last Saturday morning. An accident company would do well here during the sleety weather.

The ball at Oddfellows Hall last Thursday night was simply attended.

The entertainment at the Baptist Church Friday night was quite a success.

Mrs. Mary Collins, of Cane Ridge, Bourbon County, and her daughter, Mrs. John H. Thompson, of Winchester, are visiting Mrs. J. A. Jackson.

There was some very fine ice put up here last Friday—four to five inches thick. Colonel John B. Herndon made us ashore last Friday night. He is sporting a plug. J. A. Jackson has a nice lot of woolen goods, blankets, comforters, &c., which he is offering at cost for cash.

GERMANTOWN.

Miss Lottie Perrine and Miss Sallie Perrie, accompanied by Charlie Burgess, paid our town a visit on last Friday.

Mr. Frank Kelly, as tall and handsome as ever, left on Monday morning to resume his place in the Mercantile College at Lexington.

Quarterly meeting was held at the M. E. Church, South, on Saturday and Sunday. In the absence of the elder, Rev. Vaughn, of Millersburg, conducted the services, ably and satisfactorily.

Miss Alma Rigen, of Rectorville, returned home on Monday morning, after spending several days as the guest of Miss Lou Bullock.

The Christian Church was filled to overflowing on last Friday night by a delighted audience. The entertainment was pronounced by competent judges to have been the best ever held in our town, and we have had some very fine ones.

Mr. Willie Pepper and Miss Nannie Erion, representing Santa Claus and his wife, and Mr. A. D. McDougle and Miss Hattie Erion, Dolly Pollock and Ida Erion, their children, acted and sang their parts to perfection. The girls engaged in it all did their part so well and sang so sweetly that it would not be just to specify. The art gallery was something new in this section, and so perfect was the deception that many persons thought they were real oil portraits. The singing of the select piece, "Bring Back My Loved One to Me," by Miss Daisy Pollock, was rendered with the sweetness and pathos that marks all the singing of this lovely little girl. The rendering of the Scotch air, "A Choice," by Miss Maggie Stiles, was faultless. The recitation entitled "Mrs. Georgiana Brown," by Miss Emeline Coleman, was true to nature and highly complimented. Miss Lizzie Patterson very forcibly impressed the young men with the fact "The lips that touch wine can never touch mine."

ABERDEEN CLIPPINGS.

It is an undraped actuality that there are some goody goody young men not over 1,000 miles from here who have joined church, and temperance orders, and outwardly make great pretensions of their good morality, &c., then slip around the back way, drink more than anybody and keep company with the worst make a mule blush. And these fellows are called the cream of society, too. Well, the cream always soaks.

1887—Drifted in to the sands of eternity, gone with its sorrows and joys; sad memories of the loved ones laid to rest, whose smiles and kind words will never be forgotten or bid adieu to again; who with the angels are singing praises round the throne of Him who doeth all things well. Memories of gladness, of bright deeds and kind acts done in the departed year sooth the deep wounds of sorrow and add renewed energy for stronger resolutions.

1888—Just born, wearing its short clothes, an infant in the lap of time, the beginning of another year, and who can tell the ending. The time to form resolutions and when you make a good resolve keep it. It may seem hard for a while, but will soon become a pleasure, the quitting of bad habits now—mind, we mean quit—no outward pretensions and go on with your meanness behind the door, and when '88 is done you will feel the better for knowing that your life was more pure in '88 than '87.

Internal Revenue Collections.

General Robinson reports the Internal Revenue collections made in this district during the past month as follows:

Liquor	29 43
Beer	27 75
Spirits	85,299 80
Cigars	1,023 60
Export	1 00
Tobacco	821 78
Special taxes	378 52

Total.....$ 87,581 35
June 8, '85 to June 15, '86.....2,442,100 04
June 16, '86 to Nov. 30, '87.....1,994,947 97
Grand total.....$ 4,524,629 36

The increase in collections during the first six months of the present fiscal over the corresponding period for the preceding year is over one hundred and thirty-two thousand dollars. From present indications the increase during the remainder of this year over last year will amount to a half million dollars.

The report was approved. There are six series of stock running now and the amount now paid in on each share is as follows:

Second series	$91 50
Third series	78 25
Fourth series	65 25
Fifth series	59 25
Sixth series	16 50
Seventh series	3 50

There are 3,520 shares altogether now running, and the dividends to be paid next Saturday amount to a total of $5,025 20. The dividends on each share have been heretofore published in the BULLETIN.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President—J. James Wood.
Vice President—John R. Rudy.
Secretary—M. C. Russell.
Treasurer—R. K. Hoefflich.
Directors—James Shackelford, M. D., David Hechinger, J. F. Barbour, George T. Wood, E. W. Mitehel, John N. Thomas, A. M. J. Cochran.

Stock and Crops.

The Fayette County wheat crop has been very much burnt by frost, and looks very delicate.

At Paris, Colonel R. G. Stoner has sold to Charles W. Davis of Boston, Mass., a yearling colt by Russell, dam by George Wilkes, for $2,000. Mr. J. J. Miller, has sold to Dr. Bliss, of La Salle, Ill., the five-year-old stallion Charleston, by Bourbon Wilkes, dam by Westwood, for $1,000.

THERE were ninety-nine marriage licenses issued in Boyle County last year—53 white and 46 colored. In Scott County, 75 white and 45 colored couples were granted marriage license.

THERE are 645 Post of the G. A. R. in Ohio with a membership of 38,887. The deaths during the year were 112. Amount expended for charity about $3,000.

Accidentally Shot His Wife.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 3.—At an early hour yesterday morning, James Cullum, who lived with his wife and child at 1324 North Thirteenth street, while celebrating the new year, accidentally shot and killed his wife. He was discharging a shotgun for the amusement of his wife and sister, when in an unaccountable manner one of the shots took effect in his wife's neck, killing her almost instantly. Cullum was jailed to await the coroner's inquest.

A City Treasurer $100,000 Short.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 3.—Expert Granger has discovered a mare's nest in the New Albany city treasury. No settlement has been had for twelve years. Discrepancies amounting to $100,000 have been discovered, but Sam Weir, the treasurer, has credits which will reduce the amount somewhat. Efforts are being made to hush the matter up.

Crushed to Death.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 3.—While William Williams, assistant engineer at the Falcon furnace of Brown, Bonnell & Company, was ascending the cage to the top of the furnace stack, he stumbled into the gearing and was crushed to death between the cage and the elevator frame. His neck was broken. He was about fifty years old, and leaves a family.

A $50,000 Blaze.

MADISON, Ind., Jan. 3.—Carrollton, Ky., at the mouth of the Kentucky river, was the scene of a destructive fire yesterday morning. The fire originated in Brown's drug store, which was destroyed, as were W. L. Smith's grocery and general store and Grabmyer's clothing establishment. The total loss is about $50,000, partially insured.

Iron Company Burned Out.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3.—The establishment of the Stevens & Bruce Iron company, at the corner of Thirteenth and Mulberry streets, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss on buildings, $25,000, fully insured. On contents, $80,000; insured for $60,000. The building was owned by Charles Francis Adams, of Boston.

Kicked to Death by Four Men.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Four young ruffians, Patrick Larkin, Michael Larkin, Thomas McKeown and Daniel Fitzgerald, beat and kicked John Henshaw to death Saturday night in a Brooklyn saloon. There was no provocation whatever. The roughs were all arrested before morning.

A One-Armed Prize Fight.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 3.—Yarger and Johnson, two local sports, have completed arrangements for a finish fight, to take place inside of two weeks. Considerable interest is attached to the match, both men being one-armed.

THERE is some talk of having the Slitz property on west side of Market street sold before long, so that the money can be reinvested elsewhere. If sold the Oddfellows will likely be the purchasers, and in that event a handsome building will be erected on the site of the old "rattle-traps."

An Important Arrest.

The arrest of a suspicious character upon his general appearance, movements or companionship, without waiting until he has robbed a traveler, fired a house, or murdered a fellow-man, is an important function of a shrewd detective. Even more important is the arrest of a disease which, if not checked, will blight and destroy a human life. The frequent cough, loss of appetite, general languor or debility, pallid skin, and bodily aches and pains, announce the approach of pulmonary consumption, which is promptly arrested and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Sold by druggists.

THE CITY ELECTION.

Some Exciting Contests for Councilmen, but Everything Passes Off Peacefully.

THE OFFICIAL RESULT.

The result of the city election yesterday was indicated by the returns published by the BULLETIN at noon. The candidates then in the lead managed to hold their own, and came out of the fight winners. In two wards, however, the contest for Councilman proved very exciting, and it was nip and tuck between the contestants till the polls closed.

Of course there are charges made that "boodle" was used, and that lavishly, but when has there been an election in which money did not have a good deal to do in carrying the successful candidates through?

The official count was made this morning, and the totals are as follows:

HON. R. H. COLLINS.

An Ex-Citizen of Maysville Dies Suddenly at Maryville, Mo.

A telegram was received yesterday afternoon by Mr. G. W. Blatterman announcing the sudden death of Hon. R. H. Collins, at Maryville, Mo. The sad news will be learned with sincere regret by the deceased's many friends in this city and throughout the State. Mr. Collins had been in bad health for some time. About two weeks ago he went to Maryville to visit his daughter, Mrs. Craig. The latter part of last week he was taken with a severe cold, and death resulted Sunday from congestion of the lungs.

The deceased was a native of this city, and was about sixty-four years of age. He was a son of Judge Lewis Collins, his mother being a daughter of Valentine Peers, a Major in the Revolutionary war. The deceased married in early life a Miss Cox, of this city. His wife was a daughter of Edward Cox, and a niece of the late George Cox. She died some years ago. Mr. Collins leaves five children—two sons and three daughters. His daughters are Mrs. Lord, of Covington, Mrs. Craig, of Maryville, Mo., and Mrs. —, of Henderson, N. C. His sons are Lewis, of Louisville, and Val P., of Covington. He also leaves one brother, Captain Val P. Collins, of Covington, and three sisters, Mrs. G. W. Blatterman, Mrs. Thomas A. Ross and Mrs. J. C. Owens, all three of this city.

The deceased was best known as a writer. Several years of his early life were spent in the newspaper business in this city. During that period he was the owner and editor of the Eagle. He sold the Eagle to Captain Thomas A. Curran, in 1859 or 1860. In after years he revised and re-edited the History of Kentucky, of which his father was the author.

The remains will be brought to this city for interment in the family lot at the Maysville Cemetery. They are expected to-night.

HENRY McCLANAHAN, engineer of the Louisville and Cincinnati packet, City of Madison, was called to his post of duty yesterday, leaving on the noon train.

"NOTHING LIKE IT."

Tramping Over One Hundred Miles to Get Married at Aberdeen.

Among the guests at Heiser's European Hotel last Saturday night were Eli Boggs and wife, and Marion Greenhill and wife. They deserve special notice from the fact that they had tramped over one hundred miles over the rough roads of Eastern Kentucky in order to get married at Aberdeen. There could hardly have been any serious objections to their marriage at home, and they no doubt took the tramp simply to say that they had been married by 'Squire Beasley, the "matrimonialist" of this section.

Their homes are in Carter County, near the Elliott County line. Mrs. Boggs was Miss Rhoda Smith and Mrs. Greenhill was Miss Katie Chandler. They were neighbors, and in their rough dress and manners resembled some of the mountain folks who may be seen at Covington at any term of "Uncle Sam's" Court to answer the charge of "moonshining." They started on their journey Christmas day. They came by way of Grayson and Olive Hill, thence through the country to Vanceburg, at which place they expected to take a boat. They arrived at Vanceburg Saturday morning. The boats were not running, and the parties continued their journey on foot. The sleet and rain proved to much for them, however, and they hired some Lewis County fellow to bring them the rest of the way in buggies. They reached this city after dark Saturday, and although the rain was falling in torrents, they did not stop until they had crossed the river and had 'Squire Beasley tie the matrimonial knot for them. Returning they registered at Heiser's Hotel. Their clothing was "wringing wet" and they looked like somebody had "dipped" them in the Ohio river. The parties started on their return tramp early Sunday morning.

THE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Programme of the Fourth Monthly Meeting to be Held at Lewisburg.

The next meeting of the Maysville and Mason County Teachers' Association will be held at Lewisburg, Saturday, January 21st. Preparations will be made to entertain all who attend, and the meeting will certainly prove a pleasant one. Following is the programme:

Opening exercises.
Tree Planting in School Grounds—Shall We Observe "Arbor Day?" by Miss Ida Richards.
Use and Abuse of Memory, W. R. Chandler.
The School System as Organized by Pestalozzi and Introduction into the Prussian Provinces by Professor Diesterweg, J. H. Kappes.
Study of Literature and History in the Schools, Miss Eliza B. Keyes.
Educational Journals and Teachers' Libraries, and Their Advantages to Teachers Who Read Them, W. T. Pollitt.
Organization and Advantages of Reading Circles, L. W. Galbraith.
The Outlook of the Schools of Mason County at the Close of Her First Centennial, W. D. Hixson.

The exercises will be interspersed with music and recitations. All subjects will be open to general discussion. Committee of reception, A. K. Marshall, Miss Linda McIlvain and W. T. Berry.

The papers speak well of Benedict's "Monte Cristo." At opera house Thursday night.

The recent assessment of property in Campbell County shows an increase of $200,000 over that of the year before.

The LaLue House property at Blue Licks has been rented to Mr. Harkins, of Ellisville, Nicholas County. He will sub-rent the hotel.

The present session of the Millersburg Female School is said to be the most prosperous since its establishment thirty years ago. The Kentucky Wesleyan opens out this week with the largest attendance in many years.

MATTIE, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hoffman, is at the point of death at the home of her parents near "Round House." By request, the attention of the members of the church to which the parents belong is called to the case.

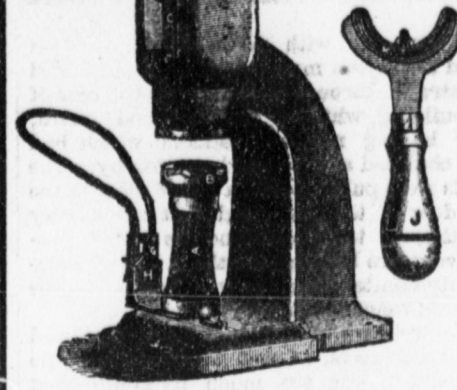

The firm of Chenoweth & Dimmit will be dissolved by mutual consent on the 21st of January, 1888. The assets and business of that firm will on that day be transferred to me and I will continue the drug business at the same stand.

J3d2t THOMAS J. CHENOWETH.

MR. MILLS, of Newburyport, Mass., was insured to amount of $35,000 in several companies, including the Equitable Life. His widow received at his death $17,500. If all had been in the Equitable Life's indisputable policy $35,000 would have been paid. Joseph F. Brodick, agent Equitable Life. d31dly

ANOTHER BIG SMASH UP.

A COLLISION ON THE CINCINNATI SOUTHERN RAILROAD.

The Terrible Result of the Misreading of a Train Dispatcher's Orders—Seven Persons Already Dead and More Fatally Hurt—List of Casualties.

SOMERSET, Ky., Jan. 3.—Saturday afternoon passenger trains Nos. 1 and 2 on the Cincinnati Southern road, collided near this city with awful effect. Train No. 2 left Chattanooga at 9 o'clock in the morning, and train No. 1 departed from Cincinnati at 7:55. At Winfield, the engineer of train No. 2 received orders to run to Summit, regardless of train No. 1.

Conductor Shrum, in the hurry of the moment, read Somerset for Summit and so told his engineer, who, without looking at his own copy of the order, pulled out for Somerset.

The orders given No. 1 were to meet and pass No. 2 at Summit. No. 1 left Somerset twenty minutes behind time, and pulled out for Summit at full speed. The train had just passed through tunnel No. 8, and was turning a sharp curve at fifty miles an hour, near Greenwood station, when No. 1 came in sight, running forty miles an hour.

The two engines were scarcely 100 feet apart when discovered. Throttles were reversed and the engineers and firemen jumped and escaped, except Charles Candee, fireman of No. 1, who was caught and roasted alive.

The scene cannot be described. The coaches were piled in a confused heap—the engines were piles of scrap iron, and fire soon added its terrors to the horror.

Following is the list of the dead and injured as far as known.

The dead are:

Lawrence Callan, baggage master, of Ludlow, Ky.

Lee Withrow, baggage master, of Ludlow, Kentucky.

James Severance, postal clerk, of Stanford, Ky.

Patrick Taylor, engineer, of Somerset, Kentucky.

Miss Jessie Green, of Chattanooga.

T. Condee, fireman, of Chattanooga.

W. B. Powell, express messenger, of Madisonville, O.

Mr. J. H. Avery, of Covington, Ky. Mr. Avery died at 5 o'clock this morning.

The injured are:

Sam Shrum, conductor, of Cincinnati.

Patrick Murphy, fireman, of Junction City, Kentucky.

W. T. Roberts, mail agent, of Chattanooga.

Mrs. J. H. Avery, of Covington, Ky.

J. B. Gibson, of Cincinnati.

Joe Nolan, porter, of Cincinnati.

William D. Michaels, engineer, of Louisville, Ky.

L. C. Sackett, news agent, of Cincinnati.

J. C. Burch, of Sydney, O.

Joseph Hepp, of Cincinnati.

Harry Patton, brakeman, of Covington, Kentucky.

J. E. Campbell, of Hanoverton, O.

Of the wounded J. B. Gibson, Mrs. J. H. Avery, J. C. Burch and Henry Patton will die.

Mr. L. C. Sackett, of Cincinnati, was rendered a raving maniac.

HEAVY MAIL BAGS.

Swelled With Holiday Remembrances From the Old Country.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Sunday and Saturday were heavy foreign mail days in the post office. A steamer from Queenstown generally brings not more than 400 or 500 sacks of letters and papers, but the Germanic on Saturday brought 740 sacks, and besides that there were five other vessels from various foreign ports which brought mail matter amounting altogether to 1,035 bags. Each bag will average about 100 pounds of letters. Yesterday the Etruria brought 730 bags from London, and the Bretagne 150 from Havre. This makes the total for the two days 1,895 sacks of foreign mail.

The cause of these large foreign mails is found partly in the holiday remembrances from abroad, and partly in the fact that business between England and the United States at this season is especially active. The first big batch of holiday mail from the old country was received on Sunday a week ago, when the Britannic brought 975 bags. This was ready for delivery on the Monday after Christmas, and was the largest single delivery of foreign mail ever received in the United States. Postmaster Pearson received yesterday the verification receipts from the London postoffice for the money orders sent from this country in the two weeks before Christmas. There were 18,000 separate remittances. Most of them were intended for presents to the old folks at home.

Strangled With a Towel.

BARNESVILLE, O., Jan. 3.—The home of G. B. Mercer, a butcher of this place, was the scene of an exceedingly strange and very sad accident at 3 o'clock yesterday. Johnny, an only son, aged eleven, while playing with his little sister, had occasion to wash and dry his hands. When through with the towel he made it fast to the door latch, and desiring to take the color from his face for his sister's amusement, he made a noose, placed his head into it, and in an instant was swung into eternity. The boy had been unusually cheerful, and the tragic death was purely accidental.

Demands of Oklahoma Boomers.

GEUDA SPRINGS, Kan., Jan. 3.—The Herald announces that Geuda Springs is the headquarters of the Oklahoma movement, and adds: "We are authorized to say that there is no movement, either concealed or open, looking to an invasion of the territory. All the Oklahoma boomers ask is that congress shall act, and act promptly, and that the president shall respect and comply with the law requiring him to appoint a commission to treat with the Indians for the lands."

Renegades Sentenced.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 3.—A general court martial order has been issued from the headquarters of Gen. Miles, fixing the sentence of the five regularly enlisted Indian scouts who mutinied at San Carlos last June and fled to the mountains, where they remained until returned by the troops. They are sentenced respectively to two, ten, fifteen and twenty years' confinement at hard labor at Fort Leavenworth.

James E. Quinn Re-Elected.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—James E. Quinn was re-elected master workman of District Assembly No. 40 Knight of Labor yesterday, defeating Shaw by 184 to 170.

ATTEMPTED BANK ROBBERY.

Fifty Thousand Dollars Would Have Rewarded the Thieves if Successful.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—A daring attempt to rob the Drovers' National bank, at the Union stock yards, was made Saturday night. That the thieves were unsuccessful in obtaining $50,000 cash locked in the vaults was the result only of their lack of nerve at a critical moment. When an employee, Charles Thompson, opened the bank yesterday he found the interior in confusion. It was evident at a glance that an effort had been made to blow open the vault. There is no watchman at the bank, the police station being but a block distant.

In company with police, Thompson soon found that three men, probably, had effected an entrance through a skylight in the rear of the building, while a fourth stood guard, after having removed ladders which had been obtained at a paint shop near by. The blinds were pulled down, a hole drilled in the iron door of the vault, and just as the noisy whistles in the packing houses and on locomotives were blowing out the old year, a six-inch dynamite cartridge was inserted in the hole and touched off.

The explosion, which had been deadened by horseblankets, attracted no notice in the general din, but too much dynamite had been used, and the knob indicator was destroyed. Afraid to try another explosion, the thieves seem to have worked on with jimmies and drills, until disgusted with the slow progress made they gave it up as a bad job, and quietly dropped out of the skylight into the alleyway and made off in the darkness of the first hours of New Year.

KILLED BY BERNAL'S BANDITS.

A Triple Crime Near Where Leon Baldwin Was Murdered.

NOGALES, A. T., Jan. 3.—The following account is given of the killing, a few days ago, of Santiago Rojas, his son Francisco and grandson Manuel, near Rancho de Navajos, on the road to Ventanas, at which place Leon Baldwin was killed. While driving pack mules together, early in the morning Manuel Rojas discovered a man on horseback in an unfrequented locality. He aroused his companions, and the three started to overtake the rider. While following up the trail they ran into the camp of a party of fourteen bandits belonging to Bernal's band, and were fired upon.

Santiago Rojas' head was blown literally into pieces. Francisco's body was found full of bullet holes. In the body of Manuel, which had the least number of wounds of all, six bullet holes were found. The bandits rifled the pockets of the dead, and from Francisco took $1,500 which he was taking to Ventanas. The packs were left intact.

Cavalry After Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—A report comes from Valparaiso, Zacatecas, that Bernal has been seen in that vicinity, and the Governor General Arce, has left the capital with 300 cavalry, for that point. The Federal government has made it known to the governors of the states in which the band has been operating for years that the band must be captured or killed, and Bernal's followers dispersed.
